

CHALLENGING MINDS • DEVELOPING CHARACTER • LIVING JESUS

Dear Families,

It was great to have the kids back in person this week, however there seemed to be a lot of forgotten water bottles, chrome books, lunches and masks. Please double check your child’s backpack to make sure they have everything they need each day. It would also be really helpful if lunchboxes, water bottles, sweatshirts, etc. were labeled with your child’s name. Labeled items are much easier to identify and return to the proper owner than unlabeled items.

I am happy to report that I finalized hiring a new Physical Education/Health teacher. Mr. Nolan Fischer is a recent graduate of UW-Milwaukee and will begin teaching on Monday, October 4th. We will send out a proper introduction next week.

I am also happy to report that there were no new cases of COVID this week. Students are still working on social distancing without reminders but there has been some improvement. Many thanks to those of you who are following the current CDC guidelines for schools, which strongly recommends that students wear masks while indoors.

Reminder: students will not have school on Thursday, October 7 & 8 due to teacher in-service and convention. We are very excited about this year’s convention as we will be presented with our Exemplary Award for Mission and Catholic Identity.

Have a great weekend!

Faithfully,

Linda Joyner
